OTHER INFORMATION:

Jury Process:

The Festival Artisan Market uses a blind jury process, meaning jury members do not know the identification of the vendor submitting product for consideration. All products are reviewed and rated for creative craftsmanship, mastery of technique, originality/innovation, product presentation, saleability* and overall appeal. Consideration will be given to the overall balance of craft categories as well as returning and new vendors. In some craft categories the number of vendors is limited, in order to offer vendors the greatest opportunity for financial success.

The jury is made up of three experienced peer artists, crafters and/or designers of various mediums. Individual jury members change from year to year to ensure the Festival Artisan Market remains fresh and unique. The Festival staff are not involved in the jury process.

**The jury will take into account past sales of returning vendors.*

Overnight Security:

Overnight security is provided for the Festival Artisan Market. Vendors are permitted to leave their tent and product on site overnight. Tents must be securely walled with no product/booth items left outside or around the tent. We recommend that product be covered or packed away inside the tent as added protection against outdoor elements. The Harrison Festival Society and/or the security company are not liable for loss or damages caused by mother nature (wind, rain, etc.)

Does my product meet Criteria?:

Products submitted for consideration to our markets must adhere to the following guidelines:

- designed, created and produced by the applicant
- not a kit craft, imported and/or mass produced

Weather:

Before applying to the Festival Artisan Market, please give careful consideration to the suitability of your product and/or display to unpredictable weather conditions. Although the summer weather in Harrison is typically pleasant, over the years our markets have seen everything from blistering heat to torrential downpours and are more often than not at the whim of Harrison Lake's notorious wind - sometimes bellowing, always breezy. Vendors accepted into the Festival Artisan Market are expected to show up for all dates they are registered for regardless of weather conditions.

Vendors that do not show up will not be invited to apply again.

PUBLICITY:

The Harrison Festival Society will take care of all the necessary publicity for the Market, however, we find that combining efforts is the best way to bring in more shoppers. There are several ways in which you can help draw more people and affectively, more sales:

Social Media: Follow the Harrison Festival on:

- Facebook - Harrison Festival Society

Make posts about when and where you'll be during the festival. Use the hashtag #harrisonfest2018
- Instagram - harrison_festival
Like posts, share pictures and make comments. Like Facebook this will increase the overall reach of the post.
Post your own photos and use the hashtag #harrisonfest2022
- Twitter - @harrisonfest
Share, like and retweet everything that comes your way. Use the hashtag #harrisonfest2022 and #justuptheroad. It will link you to other marketing initiatives and give your tweet and our tweets a boost.

General Tip: There are many parts of the festival which are different then the Artisan Market such as our Evenings in the Hall, the Music on the Beach, and the gallery display at the Ranger Station Art Gallery. All of these pieces make for a very interesting event, and combined, can really peak the interest of more people. Please don't hesitate to promote other parts of the event outside the market along with your own booth and products.

Posters for the festival go out in May, along with brochures and programs in early June. All of these are free, so please, if you get your hands on some, hand them out and spread the word. We will send you extras too if you request them. If you have any suggestions as to places that could use a poster or programs, please let us know by emailing info@harrisonfestival.com.

The Festival revamped the website 4 years ago and we now have a robust site with lots of info and details about the event. All artisans will be listed on the Artisan Market page (<https://harrisonfestival.com/festival/artisan-market/>). We do our best, but the list is actually a fairly large task to complete in a busy time for the staff, so if you have a chance, please check it out and make sure we have everything correct with the proper links. Once again, shoot us an email if you see anything that needs fixing and we'll get on it right away.

Also, you might be surprised to know how many people get the name of the festival wrong... It's frustrating to see people wanting to help promote the fest, but say the wrong name for people to search. The proper name of the festival as it will appear on all of our official publicity and marketing is "The Harrison Festival of the Arts"
